Problem Economic, Not Political, Speakers Advise Farm Bureau

President, District
Official Address
Annual Meeting Here

Saline County Farm Bureau members yesterday heard the president of their state organization and a district official tell them that the farm problem should be an economic and not a political problem and that farm people should not be interested in propositions designed to get votes for somebody.

Speaking at the 38th annual meeting of the Saline County Farm Bureau, held in the Harrisburg city hall auditorium, were Otto Steffey, president of the Illinois Agricultural association, and Emmett

Four Children Killed in Hut Explosion, Fire

MISSION, Tex. (AP)—Four children ranging from seven months to three years old died Friday when an explosion and fire destroyed their quarters but farm house seven miles north of Mission.

"The hut was completely consumed," Mission Fire Chief Ray Landry said. "The aluminum had melted and it looked like burned paper."

Landry said the three little girls and a seven-month-old boy were alone in the hut when it was ripped by a terrific explosion.

"The little bodies were hard to find," he added. "They were terribly charred. They must have been killed instantly."

The mother of two of the children had stepped outside to get a wrench for her husband, who was operating a tractor in a nearby field.

The children were identified as Eva Mercado, 3, Amadeo Mercado, seven months, Maria de Rosario Moncarrata, 2, and Maria de Moncarrata, nine months.

The Mercado youngsters were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Mercado, owners of the small, isolated home. The other victims were their grandchildren and the children of Mr. and Mrs. Vincente Charles Moncarrata.

Moncarrata and his wife had just recently come to live with her parents.

"There was a butane gas stove in the hut," Landry said. "I've just got a hunch that somehow a jet got kicked open." He said the exact cause may never be determined.

Landry said Mrs. Mercado suffered severe burns when she tried to approach the house after the explosion.

Dave Friedman, Brokerage Chain Supervisor, Hurt

Dave Friedman, well-known in Harrisburg, was seriously injured Wednesday night in a Kentucky auto crash.

Mr. Friedman is supervisor of stores for the Kolbrenner Illinois Brokerage chain of stores and has been coming to Harrisburg for about 20 years. At one time he managed the local store.

He was driving in the snow from Jackson, Tenn., to Cairo Wednesday night when his auto hit a slippery stretch on a bridge, the car smashing into the concrete part of the bridge. He was taken to Clinton, Ky., near where the accident happened. Both legs were broken.

Yesterday he was moved to a St. Louis hospital by ambulance.

School Girl Hurt in Crash Near Equality

A Shawneetown high school girl, Joyce Stubbs, is in the Ferrell hospital today suffering injuries received early last night in a crash in which the school bus she was in and an automobile.

Reports were that the girl was shaken up and will be released tomorrow.

It was learned the bus, en route to the Shawneetown-Galatia basketball game at Galatia, had just left Route 13 near Equality and was on Route 142 which leads to Eldorado. An auto started around the bus in a no-passing zone, it was stated, and when the driver saw another vehicle approaching swerved back into his own lane of traffic, striking the rear of the bus.

A state patrolman from Benton covered the crash. It was learned that the auto occupants received treatment for minor injuries and were released.

The bus driver was James W. Mitchell, 39, Shawneetown. Reported in the car were Charles Fox, 22, and Andrew Murphy, 17, also of Shawneetown.

Slow Completion Of Wabash Bridge

MT. VERNON, Ind.—Bad weather and equipment breakdowns have slowed completion of the new Wabash Memorial bridge near New Haven, Ill., scheduled for completion last September, with opening now set for Feb. 1, 1956, according to Paul H. Legay, field engineer for Sverdrup and Parcel, Ind., St. Louis, designers of the bridge.

Legay also stated that although the bridge may be done by February, it must be painted and this may not be done before April.

Coroner Elmer M. Gibbons today obtained nominating petitions for circulation. Coroner Gibbons said that he was entering the Republican primary and sought re-election to the post he now holds.

Burns to Death

EAST ST. LOUIS (AP)—A 35-year-old East St. Louis packing house employee, Harry Lynch, died Friday of burns he suffered when his home burned to the ground. Firemen believe the blaze was started by Lynch's smoking a cigarette in bed.

11 Local Young Men Sign Up For Reserve Duty

Eleven Harrisburg young men have recently signed for duty with the U. S. Army Reserve under the provisions of the Reserve Forces Act of 1955 and will become members of the 347th Replacement Battalion, with headquarters in Harrisburg.

The Reserve Forces Act, designed to build up a trained reserve, provides for a 6 months period of active army service and 7 1/2 years in the ready reserve.

It is explained that all men, up to 25 years of age, entering the military service via draft, enlistment or commission, have a six year military obligation, with a minimum active service of 2 years. This compares with the six months service, plus 7 1/2 years reserve time under the new act.

James Tolbert was the first young man to enlist in Harrisburg under the act and has already received his uniform. Others were taken by Army vehicle to St. Louis Tuesday for physical examinations and other enlistment processing and two others will go to St. Louis within the next few days to complete their enlistment.

In explaining the workings of the reserve act, Lt. Col. Harold James, commanding officer of the 347th Replacement Battalion, stated the men would immediately start to receive credit for their reserve service.

Following their graduation from high school they will report for active service, probably at Camp Atterberry, Indiana. When the six months period of training is finished they will return home and go into the ready reserve program again.

They will know, barring a national emergency, that their active duty is completed.

In the reserve program each member is required to attend 48 weekly classes, usually a 2-hour session once a week, and two weeks of field training. Personnel receive a full day's pay for each class and a recruit's pay is $2.77 per day.

Col. James urged that all young men and their parents investigate the provisions of the Reserve Forces Act and stated he would welcome anyone at the battalion meetings. Reserve headquarters are on South Vine street and the unit meets each Wednesday evening from 7:30 to 9:30. Next meeting will be the first Wednesday in the new year.

Semi-Trailer Loaded With Jet Motors Jack-Knives on Rt. 45

A large semi-trailer, loaded with jet motors, jack-knifed on Route 45 last night, blocking traffic for about an hour.

Sheriff William T. Barrett, who investigated, said the incident occurred just out of Carrier Mills, between Carrier Mills and Harrisburg, around 9:20 p. m.

He said the driver, J. E. Huckle, of Houston, Texas, travelling north, saw some truck drivers he knew at a Carrier Mills stop and applied his brakes to turn around at a gravel road and go back.

However, the brakes locked and the truck jack-knifed, the cab going into a ditch and the trailer angling across the pavement. The truck did not overturn and Huckle was not injured.

Specialist Gives President Heart Check-Up

Results May Determine Decision On Second Term

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—President Eisenhower today underwent a detailed medical examination to determine whether increased activity has impaired his recovery from his Sept. 24 heart attack.

The examination was conducted by Dr. Paul Dudley White, world famed heart specialist from Boston, and the President's attending physicians.

White drove here this morning from Baltimore, Md., where he had been attending a meeting of heart specialists. It was his first examination of the President since the chief executive left Denver last month.

White planned to examine the President personally and make a thorough review of electrocardiograph, blood chemistry, and other data gathered in recent weeks on the President's condition.

May Influence Decision The results of the examination may influence the President's decision regarding a second term. His personal physician, Dr. Howard McC. Snyder, has said, however, that if he were the President he would wait a couple of months before deciding.

From the examination some hint might come of the President's ability to face up physically to his political future. But however favorable White's prognosis might be, there seemed little prospect that the nation would learn today whether Mr. Eisenhower intends to run for reelection.

White might tell the President that he may resume a fairly normal life after completing his medically supervised convalescence. White has said in the past that most of his coronary thrombosis patients are able to resume normal lives. But the doctor adds quickly that he never had a President as a patient before.

White traveled to Gettysburg in a White House car from Baltimore, Md., where he participated Friday night in a meeting of heart specialists. Others taking part in the examination were Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snyder, White House physician; Col. Thomas W. Mattingly, chief of cardiology services at Walter Reed hospital in Washington, and Maj. Walter Tkach, the assistant White House doctor.

Christmas Decorations By Junior High Students On Display Sunday

The art classes of Harrisburg Junior high school will present Christmas decorations the students have made at a public showing from 1 to 5 p. m. Sunday at the Junior high school.

All types of interesting decorations have been made, table decorations, mantel decorations and others.

The exhibit will be in the art room, and everybody is invited to attend by the students and by Mrs. H. B. Bauman, art supervisor. People may enter the Church street entrance to the school.

After the showing the pupils will take their decorations with them, for decorations in their own homes.

Dulles Pledges American Atomic Aid To Six-Nation European Nuclear Pool

PARIS (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today pledged American industrial atomic aid to a six-nation "Euratom" nuclear pool.

Dulles made the offer to further strengthen the united Europe movement, authoritative sources said.

America also is planning to give a new look to its whole aid program to underdeveloped countries, putting it on a longer term basis to combat the Soviet cold war penetration of the Middle East and Asia, the sources said.

Dulles made the offer of atomic aid during talks with American and European diplomats on the "cold war" fronts in Europe and Middle East.

He pointed out to champions of a united Europe, however, that the European nations themselves must take the initiative and plan their atom pool, to be called "Euratom."

Dulles plunged into the last round of meetings before taking off for Washington to report to President Eisenhower on the crucial North Atlantic Treaty Council meeting. The secretary of state considered the meeting the best since he took office, authoritative sources said.

The sources said the urgent, hitherto neglected task now is to "sell" NATO and such mutual security associations to the world as "the wave of the future."

While Dulles talked united Europe, West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano declared at a press conference that his government would not seek separate negotiations with the Soviets for German reunification.

C. O. Blackman Retires After 31 Years--2 Million Miles--On Bus

On Sept. 1, 1924 Charles O. Blackman, climbed behind the driver's wheel of an Egyptian Transportation Co. bus on the Public Square in Marion for his first trip as a bus operator. On Wednesday, 31 years, three months and 13 days later he left the same place on the Public Square in a Greyhound bus for his last run.

In the intervening years, Blackman estimates he has driven at least two million miles. During that time not a single passenger ever required hospitalization or medical treatment because of accident. Once he won a company safety award, and was presented with a complete new uniform in recognition.

Mr. Blackman, a resident of Marion, was born in Saline county and his family lived in St. Louis. Four years ago they moved to their present home, 724 North Harper street.

During his thousands of trips between southern Illinois and St. Louis he has made many friends along the route, knowing by their first names many of his passengers who know him as "Cob," a nickname derived from his initials C.O.B. His friendliness has made him a popular driver also with bus station personnel along the way.

The retiring bus operator plans to spend his time at his hobbies of carpentering, hunting and fishing, and to his friends along the bus route he has extended an invitation to "come by and see me, and I'll guarantee you some of the best fishing in southern Illinois."

Two GIs Arrested In East Berlin Face Army Trial

BERLIN (AP)—The United States Army announced today that the two American soldiers arrested in East Berlin for beating a Communist actor will be tried by an Army court martial.

The soldiers were arrested by East German Communist police Dec. 7 on charges of beating a Communist actor at a cabaret known for its anti-Western skits. They were released by the Soviets Saturday after repeated U. S. demands.

The GIs are Pvt. Willie J. Holden, 19, Poplarville, Miss., and Pvt. Richard L. Calbert, 22, Kansas City, Mo.

The Army said they will appear before a Berlin command court martial Monday for "trial on charges of being disorderly in uniform in a public place."

Houses Rocked, Windows Broken In Southern Part

Persons Frightened By Eight Shocks Sleep Outdoors

EL CENTRO, Calif. (AP)—Residents of the southern tip of California braced today for possible continuance of the earthquakes that shook the area Friday night, breaking store windows and rocking "whole houses back and forth."

Eight shocks of growing intensity so frightened long-time residents of the area that many slept outdoors fearful that they might be injured if even more severe quakes caught them indoors.

Fire Marshal Robert Lane of Brawley said if any more shocks occurred authorities might call out the National Guard to prevent looting from stores with broken windows.

The shocks were strongest in the Imperial Valley but San Diego, about 130 miles west of El Centro, felt several of the shocks as did Calexico, on the Mexican border. The two largest tremors shook homes for as long as a minute and a half, one resident said. None of the shocks was termed serious by experts.

The two big jolts "scared the hell out of me," one old-time resident of Brawley said. He said he did not believe there had been any harder earthquakes in Brawley since the "big one" in 1940 which caused extensive damage and killed several persons.

Galatia Area Test Flows 200 Barrels a Day

Taken from the Robertson

A tri-state oil report from the past week was Delwood's T. G. Lewis No. 1, SEC SW NW, 15-8-56 (Galatia township), which is a wildcat a mile and a quarter from other production. It is flowing 200 barrels of oil a day from the Aux Vases at 2853-72 after fracture. This operation was reported last week by The Daily Register.

There are two other interesting spots in the same general area, where there is production from different pay zones. In Section 25, Sun Oil's George O. Upton No. 1, NWE NW SW, was initiated in September for 100 barrels daily, flowing after acid in the Lower O'Hara. Sun's Justin Reynolds No. 1, SEC SE NE, Section 26, was completed in the Cypress for a voluntarily pro-rated initial production of 50 barrels a day, flowing.

About midway between these two fine areas, Collins Brothers is drilling the Maude Brown, NEE NE SW, 22-8-56. This is three-fourths mile west of a 40-barrel Paint Creek sand producer, the Bona No. 1, completed in December, 1954, by Calvert and Oil Management.

Other activity: C. E. Brehm's Allie Gill No. 1, NWE SW SW, 30-7-56 (Tate) made an oil well in the Aux Vases with initial production 170 barrels per day on pump.

Dry and abandoned were: Stelle's J. V. Capel No. 1, NWE SE SW, 3-9-56 (Harrisburg); Carter's John Gowdy No. 1, NWE NW SE, 36-10-56 (Stonewall); Moran's W. W. Awarded Judgment In Circuit Court

Joseph G. Crabb was awarded a judgment of $1,076.16 by a circuit court jury yesterday in a case which ended the December term of court.

Next scheduled circuit court session will be Jan. 13, which will be default day.

Crabb sued the Smith Packing Co. and the driver of a Smith truck as a result of a collision on Route 34. The plaintiff was represented by Atty. Robert V. Wilson, the defendant by Atty. Charles Jelliffe.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Ike Finds Party Leaders in Mellow Mood; Russians Now Claim Credit For Holsteins; Hoover Jr. Making Top Decisions For Dulles.

WASHINGTON. — As befits a pre-Christmas meeting, all was calm at the President's powwow with Republican and Democratic congressional leaders this week.
A spirit of bipartisan harmony prevailed.

President Eisenhower even managed to keep his occasional josh-ing on a bipartisan level, poking
a little fun at both a Democrat, Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, and a Republican, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, during the course of the three-hour meeting.

On the serious side, Dulles gave the congressional chiefs a lengthy, detailed report on conditions in Europe, the Middle and the Near East. He also reported that "every conceivable effort" was being made and would continue to be made to free 19 Americans still held prisoners by the Chinese Communists.

He declared that Russia's post-Geneva policy of offering economic and military aid to needy countries presented as many problems
"for them as for us."

"They may overreach themselves," he said.
He promised that the United States would counter Soviet aid if these countries appear to be in danger of going Communist. Dulles specifically blasted what he called the "open and blatant Russian effort to penetrate the Middle East."

Asked about Communist activity in southeastern Asia, the secretary of state replied: "The situation in that area is still troublesome. But in my opinion it's better now than a year ago."

As Dulles finished his report, based on personal observation in various parts of the globe, Eisenhower caused chuckles by dryly re-marking: "With all the traveling you've done, Foster, somebody ought to give you a license to be an aviator."

On doctors' advice Ike took a 10-minute break about 10 o'clock, as the meeting was half over; also did no wholesale handshaking with all his callers—there were about 50 present.

As he entered the big cabinet room, the President explained:

"I would like to shake hands with all of you—but it's been barred."

Spotting Texas Sen. Lyndon Johnson, however, he said, "It's good to see you, Lyndon. You and I are members of the same club."

The President made a personal pitch for a greater propaganda effort overseas.
"The most important battle coming up," he said, "is the battle for men's minds."

Warning that we can't afford to lose this battle, he announced that the U. S. Information Service's budget would be increased from $79,000,000 to $130,000,000.

It was unusual, he acknowledged, to practically double one agency's budget. But he assured congressional leaders that the situation warranted it. He didn't mention that it was Senator Mc-Carthy who almost wrecked our propaganda effort; that the USIS still hasn't recovered from McCar-thy's wild attacks.

Secretary of Defense Wilson briefed congressional leaders on defense spending, which he announced would be boosted next fiscal year by $1,000,000,000. The figure he used for the total defense budget was $35,570,000,000. He stressed that the atomic-powered aircraft carrier would not come out of this year's budget.

Wilson also proposed an inter-service fund of $200,000,000, to be used for guided missiles and other new weapons as the need arises.

Note — Throughout the closed-door session, Secretary of State Dulles didn't once mention the Formosa crisis or the Berlin blockade. Senate Republican Leader Bill Knowland, who normally is full of questions about Formosa, didn't let out a peep.

HOLSTEINS FROM RUSSIA

During his recent tour of Russia, Congressman Wayne Hays of Ohio visited one of the Soviet's "show places" collective farms, found it considerably below American standards in sanitation, modern equipment, and housing. The dairy and beef cattle, however, looked about the same as on a typical U. S. farm.

Pointing to a Holstein cow, Hays remarked to the farm manager: "I have some of the same breed on my own farm in Ohio."

"You have some of our great Russian cows?" asked the manager, eagerly.

"No, I said Holstein," corrected Hays. "The breed originated in Denmark."

"You are mistaken," demurred the manager. "These cows originally came from northern Russia."

"Look, I'm a breeder and I know what I'm talking about," said Hays. "The proper name of these cattle is Holstein-Friesian.
They were first bred in Denmark.
Mine and yours both."

With a bored expression, the Soviet manager turned to Hays' interpreter and declared: "Tell him that maybe his cattle came from Denmark but these are Russian."

The manager then pointed out some white-faced Hereford cows, bred originally in England, and inquired if Hays could identify them.

"Yes, I can, but I'll ask you anyhow," replied Hays with a grin. He wasn't surprised when told that the Herefords were "Russian white faces."

HOOVER JR. RULES

John Foster Dulles has been travelling so fast he has no idea about some of the things going on inside the State Department.
He has even left two vital decisions to his undersecretary, Herbert Hoover, Jr.

This might be all right if important policy matters were being reviewed by the President.
But with Eisenhower semi-out-of-touch, vital decisions are being made today at very low levels.

For instance, Hoover, Jr. has just decided that the atomic reactor school which the United States promised to set up in southeast Asia will be located in the Philippines instead of Ceylon.

He has also decided that no additional money shall be spent in the Middle East.

Dulles left these two points to Hoover to decide despite the fact that Hoover is a member of the 4-H club, the four men all of whose names begin with H who are dead opposed to much foreign-aid spending — Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, Foreign Aid Director Hollister, Budget Director Hughes, and Hoover.

Bought Island

Peter Minuit, who was appointed governor of New Netherlands by the Dutch West India company, is said to have bought Manhattan island, in 1626, from the Canarsee Indians for blankets, cattle, and various trinkets to a total value of $24.

The albatross once was known as "Cape sheep," apparently be-

Well Bundled

MAINZ, Germany — German police rushed to a local parking lot early Friday when the attendant reported he had found a "mysterious bundle."

Police identified the "bundle" as a tightly-zipped American Army sleeping bag, containing a soldier and a German girl.

Social and Personal Items

Three Birthdays Observed By Pride of Midway Lodge

The Birthday club of the Pride of Midway Rebekah lodge No. 679 held a party recently at the newly decorated home of Mrs. Annalou Sowers, 1224 South Jackson.

Gifts were exchanged and the birthdays of Mrs. Eva Coffee, Mrs. Pavah Whiteside and Mrs. Elizabeth Vaughn observed.

Following the bingo game refreshments of homemade cake, ice cream and coffee and Santa Claus favors were served to Mrs. Gladys Winkelman, Mrs. Stella Sowers, Mrs. Essie Souheaver, Mrs. Nina Vaughn, Mrs. Cara Dixon, Mrs. Katherine Estes, Mrs. Cordelia York, Mrs. Annalou Sowers, Mrs. Ruby Hilliard, Mrs. Marie Frailey, Mrs. Marjorie Schmitz, Mrs. Pavah Whiteside and Mrs. Eva Coffee.

Per capita consumption of cheese in the United States has doubled since 1918.

Buena Vista Loyal Workers Ladies' Bible Class Has Party

The Loyal Workers Ladies' Bible class of Buena Vista held its December meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mildred Smith.

The program was opened with the song "Silent Night" and "Joy To The World" followed by a series of prayers led by Mrs. Tess Rogers and concluded by Mrs. Nell Denny.

After singing the class song, the devotional lesson was read by Mrs. Ruth Pryor who took her subject, the Christmas Story, from the second chapter of Luke.

The following readings were given: "Keeping Christmas," by Mrs. Laura Sawyer; "The Christmas Gift," by Mrs. Gertrude Oehl; and "Christmas Prayer," Mrs. Orpha Wagner.

The business meeting was adjourned by repeating "The Lord's Prayer" in unison.

Gifts were exchanged. Games were played and refreshments served to those mentioned and to the following: Mrs. Lois Buchanan, Mrs. Dorothy Pryor, Mrs. Julia Mae Dunn, Mrs. Mary Shell, Mrs. Ethel Allen, Mrs. Ada Hubbard, Mrs. Lela Webb, Mrs. Ethel Blue, Mrs. Barbara McConnell, Mrs. Ruth Pickford, Miss Virginia Pryor and Miss Cathy McConnell.

Mrs. June Martin Hostess To Daughters of Ruth

Mrs. June Martin was hostess to the Daughters of Ruth Sunday school class of McKinley Avenue Baptist church for the annual Christmas program Thursday evening.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Lucille Hise, vice president. The class song of "Teach Me to Pray" was sung and the opening prayer was given by Mrs. Helen Cannon. Roll call was given and minutes of previous meeting read. An interesting devotion was given by the teacher, Mrs. Winnie Koch, entitled "The Ragged Cloak." The teacher also asked each member of the class to read Luke 2 to their immediate families before Christmas. The closing prayer was given by Mrs. June Martin.

An interesting Christmas game was played, directed by Mrs. Sarah Pelhank, with Mrs. June Martin the winner of the prize.

The Christmas theme was carried out by having gifts placed under a beautiful tree and the old time merriment was manifest in the exchange of presents. The teacher was presented a gift from the class. Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Madeline Horn and Lorene Kerr.

Present were Mesdames R. C. Fritts, George Butler, Lloyd Hise, Elmo Koch, Bob Frantz, Richard Runney, Cecil Nelson, Verbal Sheldon, Harold Pelhank, J. D. McCarty, Ingle Horn, Wayne Kerr, Herschel Brown, Wayne Newcomb, and Maynard Cannon.

Amanda Reynolds Class To Hold Christmas Party Monday

The Amanda Reynolds Missionary society of the Sloan Street General Baptist church met at the church Wednesday night.

The group sang "Joy to the World" and Mrs. Lillie Allen led in prayer. Mrs. Sylvia Fowler, teacher, gave the lesson, "Out of the Past into the Present," with worship theme of "For God So Loved the World." The devotion was given by Mrs. Blanche Yuhans and told the story of the birth of Christ. Various points were brought out by the Indians since the study for this year is centered on the Indians.

Mrs. Ola Maszaros, president, had charge of the business meeting which followed. The secretary, Mrs. Geraldine Ewell, read the minutes of last meeting and graded the members on the standard of excellence. Mrs. Barbara Cooper joined the society at this meeting.

It was decided that the Christmas party would be held Dec. 19 at 7 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Geraldine Ewell, 434 West Poplar. Members are invited to come and bring one guest. At the party the Christmas baskets will be made for those we wish to help and each member is to bring items for the baskets as well as a fifty cent gift for exchange.

Besides those mentioned above the following were present: Eunice Black, Ollie Ferrell, Myrtle Shewmaker, Stella Cooper, Ruby Wallace, and Connie Vascimmo, a friend of Ola Maszaros, from Newark, New Jersey.

The next meeting will be January 11, 1936.

Michael Hillegas Chapter To Hold December Meeting

The Michael Hillegas chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will hold its December meeting Monday at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Ron Mitchell Jr., who will be assisted by Mrs. Herman Boatright and Mrs. Clyde Wilmoth.

Guest speaker for the evening will be Rev. Glen Daugherty, pastor of the First Christian church, who will talk on "The Spiritual Meaning of Christmas."

Christmas music will be sung.

P. L. Trousdale to Observe Anniversary
Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Trousdale will observe their golden wedding anniversary Christmas Day, Dec. 25.

Friends are invited to call.

Harrisburg High School Notes

STUDENT COUNCIL SPONSORS YULE DECORATIONS

The HTHS Student Council has started the Yuletide season by placing a huge Christmas card across the front of the high school buildings. The cards, reaching almost half a block, carry the age-old Christmas message: "Peace on earth, good will to men."

This is the third year the Student Council has sponsored the decorations for the school. It marks the half-way point of a five year plan to provide adequate Christmas decorations for the sprawling high school building.

GAA REWRITES ASSN'S CONSTITUTION

The constitution of the Girls' Athletic Association of HTHS is being rewritten.

The only constitution the organization has dates back ten years. Mrs. Edith Arensman, GAA sponsor, points out that changes made in that period make necessary certain alterations in the constitution. One pressing need is a change in the points system whereby girls win their annual awards.

Work on the constitution was started last week and will not be completed for another week.

LECTURER TELLS OF EXPERIENCES LEADING STUDENT GROUPS

At an assembly program Dec. 14, HTHS students heard Norma Brandel tell of her colorful experiences leading student groups through Europe.

Miss Brandel, an instructor at North Park college, Chicago, told of repairing a flat tire in the Russian sector of Berlin under the watchful eye of a machinegun-toting Communist policeman. Her tours have been called "an experiment in international living" and are approved by the U. S. State Department.

Miss Brandel concluded her lecture with the advice to "travel while you are young and feel that you can't afford it." That, she explained, was the situation most likely to create the most enjoyment.

INSTALL CASES FOR VOCATIONAL DISPLAYS

New Bonnell hall display cases have been installed by the first, fifth, and seventh hour industrial art classes of HTHS. Gordon Parkhurst, department head, directed the installation of the cases which will be used for the exhibitions of the art, homemaking, and shop departments.

Copper etched trays and lamps made by the metal shop; copper etched bowls, sheer nylon party aprons; Christmas candles sprinkled with stardust, colorful hot pads, wash cloths, and clothes hangers made by the homemaking department are now on display. The vocational educational displays will be changed from time to time.

HI-Y DONATES FOR CARMIC ORPHANAGE

Each member of the HTHS Hi-Y club donated 25c to establish a Christmas fund for the Carmic Orphanage.

Rev. Burroughs of the Presbyterian church spoke at the club's annual Christmas meeting last Tuesday night. The subject of his talk was "Customs of Christmas." The club met in the school cafeteria and were led by President Bob Jones.

BAND, CHOIR GROUPS TO GO CAROLING AFTER CONCERT MONDAY

Carolers from the band and choir of HTHS are going caroling the night of Dec. 19, after the Christmas concert. The carolers will be conducted by Mr. John Schork, HTHS vocal instructor, and will be chaperoned by Mr. Schork and other high school instructors.

Mr. Schork invites everyone who can't attend the Christmas concert because of illness or physical infirmity to call the high school Monday, leaving their names and addresses, and the carolers will be glad to serenade their homes with Christmas songs.

The carolers will be served refreshments after the concert at the high school.

Simmons Rites At Marion Sunday

The funeral of Sam Simmons, Williamson county coroner who resided in Marion and who died at 1 a. m. yesterday in the Marion Memorial hospital, will be Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Mitchell funeral home in Marion. Elders O. P. Allen and R. W. Poor, ministers of the Church of the Latter Day Saints, will officiate and burial will be in Cana cemetery near Goreville.

Problem is Economic, Farm Bureau Group Told

grown in membership from 116,000 to 202,000 in the past 10 years and that the American group had shown increases in membership for 17 consecutive years.

He said that at the national convention there was no complete agreement on issues — but there was a vote of all the delegates on these issues. And, he stated, "You'll not find complete agreement, either, in state or county organizations, or even among farmer brothers."

Agreeing that things were not going so well for the farmer in spite of high employment and good business, he declared "we should make this an economic instead of a political program and they're making it the No. 1 political issue. There's too much talk with the idea in mind of how many votes it will get instead of how much it will help agriculture."

Six Directors Re-Elected
C. Ersel Vineyard of Mountain township, president of the Saline County Farm Bureau, presided at the meeting. At the annual election six directors were re-elected as follows: Galatia, Ewell Harris; Eldorado, C. P. Brown; Tate, T. H. Weight; Raleigh, R. L. Morris; Independence, Orval Gribble; Harrisburg, Eugene Lamkin.

Holder directors are: Carrier Mills, Earl O'Keefe; Brushy, John C. Small; Long Branch, A. J. Tison; Cottage, A. K. Gates; Rector, A. A. Gholson; and Stonefort, A. A. Appel.

TOPS AMONG SHEEP—"Big Chief," 100-pound Southdown wether, won the Grand Champion wether blue ribbon at the exposition. With Big Chief is Tom Means, 30, instructor of animal husbandry at Purdue University in Lafayette, Ind. It is the second successive year that Purdue has come through with a grand champion in the sheep show.

This Week at

DIXON SPRINGS
University of Illinois Experiment Station

(A round-up of the week's work, activities, and observations at the University of Illinois, prepared by the Station's staff)

Select Replacement Heifers

Replacement heifers selected on paper can also be pleasing to the eye. Bob Webb, Station superintendent, proved that recently when he and George Cmarik, cattle researcher, picked this year's beef cow replacements from our yearling heifers. Closting themselves with the rate-of-gain records and type scores on some 120 heifers, Bob and George unbiasedly split the heifers into one cull and one keeper group. Rate-of-gain records governed by type scores dictated the grouping. Rapid-gaining heifers were dropped from the keepers if their type score was low. But the best type of heifer did not make the keeper column unless her rate of gain was judged acceptable.

With this information, Bob and George moved from the office to the cattle lots. Examining only the ear of each heifer to find the tattooed number, they decisively split the heifers into keepers and culls. Yes, their selection was pleasing to the eye. The cull pen held obvious culls and an occasional type heifer that hadn't measured up on rate of gain. The keeper pen held growthy, well-fleshed heifers that are now grazing the Station's pastures.

Bob Webb says that paper selection takes the sentiment out of picking herd replacements. A heifer is not kept because she has a pretty head, a nice coat of hair or a pleasing spot of color here or there. Rate-of-gain selection can be easy if you are convinced, as are Bob and George, that rate of gain is a highly heritable characteristic that is most important to profitable beef production.

Cull Heifers on Feed

The cull yearling heifers have been placed on feed and are to be sold for slaughter. They will be allowed to live it up for the next two or three months on a complete ration from self-feeders. The ration to which they were turned without a warming-up period is 65 percent ground ear corn, 5 percent molasses, 20 percent ground hay and 10 percent soybean oil meal.

Cob and hay make up about one-third of the ration. With this much roughage the heifers go onto full feed easily and rapidly with little danger of founder or digestive troubles. Steers that were self-fed a similar ration during a 130-day feeding period made a 2.6-pound gain per head daily.

Foresters Visit Station

The Station was host to 19 foresters from the State Division of Forestry on November 29 and 30. They were given a one-day training session in forest soils by W. R. Boggess, professor in forest research at the Station. On the second day the visitors were shown work being done in management of forest plantations and native hardwood stands. Results of these projects were explained by Fred McMillan. The foresters also visited the watershed management study being conducted on the Lake Glendale watershed and showed a considerable amount of interest in this project. We are always happy to play host to such groups.

Farm Woodlands Can Bring Added Income

DIXON SPRINGS—Include your woodland in your over-all farm management plan.

A woodland can be a profitable farm area if you have one on your place, says F. W. McMillan, assistant in forest research at the Dixon Springs Experiment Station of the University of Illinois.

McMillan points out that more than 10 per cent of the total land area in Illinois is forested and that 90 per cent of this timber is farmer-owned. You can increase the production and income from your farm woodland with proper management.

First, McMillan suggests that you keep all live stock out of your woodland. Grazing woodlands destroys natural reproduction of trees and compacts the soil. Soil compaction results in less vegetation, more water runoff and less water-holding capacity. Most woodland forage is either unpalatable or so sparse that grazing animals gain little or no weight.

Then, protect the woodland from fire. A good blaze will destroy small trees and severely damage or destroy large ones. Resulting loss of vegetation also increases soil and water loss.

Next, improve the stand by taking out cull trees that will not produce at least one salable 8-foot log with large crowns and limbs that take up more space than their growth justifies, trees damaged by weather, fire, insects and disease, poorly formed trees

Illinois Farm Values Still on Increase

URBANA — Value of Illinois farm lands and buildings increased about 40 percent in the four and a half years between the census of April 1950 and that of 1954. Figures compiled by C. L. Stewart of the University of Illinois department of agricultural economics show that the average price of land was $242 an acre at the time the 1954 census was taken. That's an increase of nearly $68 an acre from the 1950 census.

Average price in the cash-grain area of 18 counties in the central and east-central sections of the state surpassed the state average by 60 percent.

The $383-per-acre average in this highly productive area was $45 an acre higher than the next high area in the northeast dairy area even though the second figure reflects the very high values around Chicago.

No county in Illinois showed a lower dollar value per acre on November 1, 1954, than in April 1950, Stewart says, although increases in two counties in the southern tip of the state were very small.

In Pope county, the average value in 1954 was $44.81 an acre, an increase of $2.39, or less than 6 percent; and in Massac county, where the average was $54.44 in 1954, the increase was less than 40 cents an acre.

There were 14 other counties, all in southern Illinois, in which the average value in 1954 was still less than $95 an acre.

At the opposite end of the scale was Cook county with an average of $626 an acre, a 46 percent increase in the 54 months.

There were five counties at levels about two-thirds that of Cook county. They included Champaign county $434 (34 percent increase); Piatt county, $435 (29 percent increase); Douglas county, $410 (36 percent increase); DuPage county, adjoining Cook county on the west, $404 (20 percent increase); and Macon county, $402 (28 percent increase).

Three other counties with very high prices are Logan, $387 (29 percent increase); McLean, $377 (30 percent increase); and Moultrie, $365 (29 percent increase).

Of the nine counties with the highest average, seven were located in the cash-grain area.

Outside of those farming areas in which large cities have had a dominant effect, Stewart doubts whether any other area in the United States can equal the cash-grain area of Illinois.

By contrast with January 1, 1935, the values reported for 1954 showed a remarkable increase throughout the state. In 35 counties the rate of increase was between 250 percent and 370 percent. Nearly half of those were in southern Illinois, a nearly equal number in central Illinois and only one in northern Illinois.

Counties with highest rates of increase were Montgomery, 369 percent; Effingham, 363 percent; Jasper, 361 percent; Bond and Cumberland, 359 percent each; Hardin, 343 percent; and Christian 343 percent.

In addition to Christian county, Champaign and Douglas were the only central Illinois counties in which the increase exceeded 300 percent in the 19½ years.

Why were the increases so general in central and southern Illinois? Stewart thinks there are several reasons:

Land in many of these counties slid to extremely low levels in the middle 1930s. This was especially true of southern Illinois.

Mechanical power gave farmers on most Illinois land opportunities for handling the land for crop production to better advantage.

Interest in enlarging farms and in applying savings from farm operations and from other occupations to purchase of farm land was shown in many parts of the state.

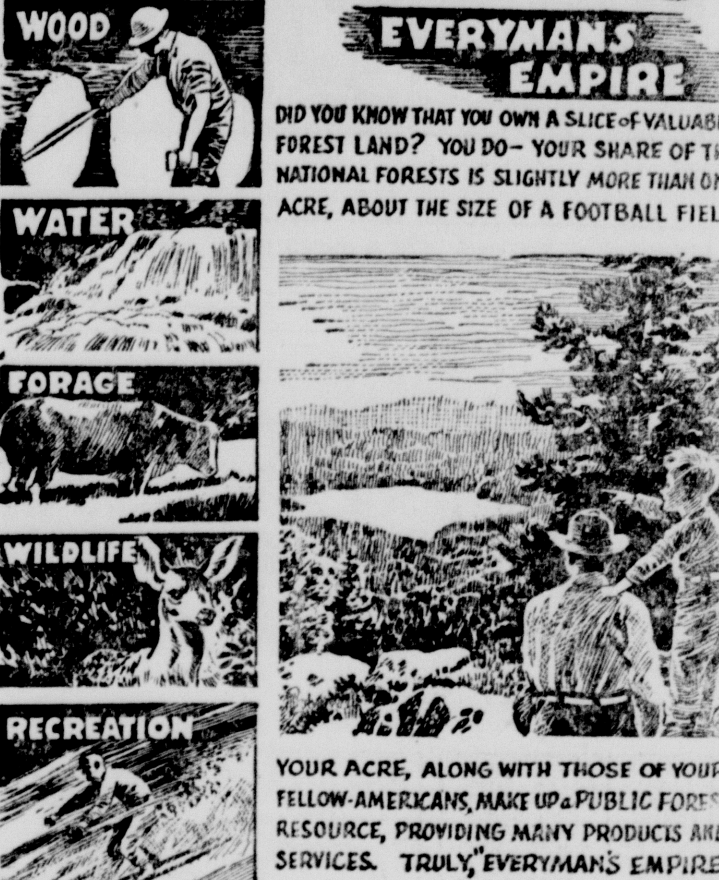

As in most major agricultural regions of the nation, price cost relationships were favorable to high net returns from farming during much of the period from 1935 to 1951.

Returns to farming have been less strikingly favorable in the past three or four years. However, the desire to enlarge farms in order to make more efficient use of equipment and labor supplies has been persistent.

Think about spring gardening now and put a bucket of dirt in your basement before the ground freezes. This will give you dirt for starting spring bulbs and for use in replanting house plants.

And undesirable species. Finally, improve the stand and maintain its high quality by following a planned cutting schedule. Proper woodland management not only will add another earning agent to your farm business, but will encourage wildlife conservation and give you a beautiful place to picnic and enjoy nature.

Plant Your Own Christmas Trees

Ralph Lorenz, forest researcher at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, grows Christmas trees in his garden in Urbana.

He spaces 16 trees four feet apart and takes up only 12 square feet of ground for his plot, which he calls his "sustained yield operation."

Every spring he plants two or three seedlings or transplants trees in the plot. In five or six years he will have two or three trees ready for harvest. He will then have a nice, fresh tree for his house every year, and usually one or two left over for a friend or neighbor.

For variety, and also to provide some of the answers to questions people are asking him about Christmas trees, Lorenz is planting several different kinds of trees. So far he has planted Scotch, white, red and jack pines, Norway spruce and Douglas fir. These are all common varieties of Christmas trees that you can find in the sales lot where you will buy your tree this year.

If you have several acres of unused land that you want to plant to Christmas trees, Lorenz believes you can find a ready and profitable market when they are ready to sell. Red, white and Scotch pine and Norway spruce will grow about seven feet high in seven years, while jack pine grows even faster. Douglas fir and white spruce are slower growers.

The pines grow well in light, sandy soils in Illinois, while fir and spruce do better on the heavier soils. If you plant the trees four feet apart in both directions, you will need about 2,722 trees for each acre of ground.

A University of Illinois veterinarian says that winter dysentery in dairy cows seldom causes death, but it may cut milk flow to less than half of normal.

There Is Money to Be Made In Poultry

In Southern Illinois many laying houses stand empty and poultry equipment lies idle because the farmers' experience has been that poultry does not pay.

A few have flocks of hybrid layers, and by increasing production have attempted to stem the tide of poultry losses, only to find themselves penalized by the careless and hopeless attitude of their neighbors which has resulted in a poor market for Southern Illinois eggs.

Others have invested in buildings and equipment to house flocks for the production of hatching eggs. The normal season has been about four months, when a premium price has compensated for part of the frustrations of the other eight. Each purchaser of flocks hatched from these eggs is out of the chick market for a year.

Producing hatching eggs for broiler chicks is not new in this area, but even here we hear complaints of flocks culled to the point of destruction and eggs graded to the point of loss, and seasons when the eggs must go on the open market.

The buyer of broiler chicks buys again in a week, or at most ten weeks, as he markets his "crop" of broilers. There is a constant movement of chicks from broiler raisers to market, and he must have a constant source of supply.

Chemell's Hatchery, Inc., supplies that market. For thirteen years this company has never paid less than 65¢ per dozen for hatching eggs, and is now paying 70¢, with a premium for high hatchability. They offer a written contract guaranteeing to furnish a year-round market at prices never below 50¢ per dozen. Trained hatchery men stand ready to advise and assist flock owners to surmount local and individual production problems.

Locally hatchery flocks for this company are being distributed by Miller Feed & Process, Harrisburg, Illinois, Phone 1146-R. Call for all the details of this plan.

Galatia FFA Chapter Authorized to Accept Magazine Subscriptions

The Galatia chapter of the Future Farmers of America have been authorized to accept subscriptions to both the Farm Journal and Town Journal magazines for a short period, which ends Jan. 3, 1955, James Bond, Galatia FFA adviser, has announced.

During this time FFA members will be working for official FFA merchandise such as jackets, ties, shirts, jewelry, pens and pencils and meeting room banners. The amount of the merchandise earned will be determined by the number of subscriptions that each boy sells before Jan. 3.

This is not a solicitation to buy, but is merely to inform the public that the Galatia FFA members have authority for their solicitation Mr. Bond stated.

By Albert Meyer

The time of year has arrived when newspapers recount the increasing winter toll of life and property loss from fires. Photographers graphically bring home to readers the tragedy and suffering of families whose homes and worldly possessions are being consumed by flames.

Fires increase in number as winter cold comes and home heating plants are put to use. The colder the weather, the more severe is the strain on the heating plant and the greater the fire hazard.

There are obvious reasons for rural areas being particularly hard hit by serious fire losses. In the first place, there are more opportunities for fires on the farm. Secondly, there is less fire protection for the rural home, resulting in greater losses when fires occur. Relatively few rural communities have organized and equipped themselves with modern firefighting equipment. Generally when rural families must depend on firefighting facilities in neighboring cities and villages, farm fires are so far advanced by the time equipment can reach the scene that losses are heavy. Limited water supply complicates the problem. A fire cistern or farm pond near the farmstead is a good investment.

Farm fires cost an estimated $157,000,000 and more than 3,000 lives in 1954, a substantial increase over the year before. What will be the cost this year? Half of the farm fires were dwellings and 38 per cent involved barns.

The greater portion of these farm fires occur in the winter. Three-fourths of the dwelling fires are caused by flues and heating systems or sparks on roofs, hazards which, of course, are winter dangers. It might be mentioned, too, that other important causes of home fires are: Careless use of kerosene or gasoline, electrical faults, careless cooking, careless smoking, and lightning.

The greatest cause of fire in barns and outbuildings is spontaneous combustion which accounts for 27 per cent of the fires in these structures. Improper use of electricity runs a close second, causing 21 per cent of the fires. There are a multitude of other minor causes, some of them unusual but nearly all of them preventable.

Carelessness and procrastination are behind most farm fires. The way to prevent them is to remove the causes. Here are a few suggestions:

Check the heating plant, repair chimneys, provide proper venting for gas and oil heating equipment, and replace bad smoke pipes on coal burning equipment. Do not be careless with hot ashes.

Have electrical wiring inspected by an experienced person to make sure it is up to safe standards. Do not use fuses of larger size than recommended.

Either repair satisfactorily or replace extension and lamp cords that are worn and frayed. Do not use small gauge electrical wiring for extensions on heavy appliances.

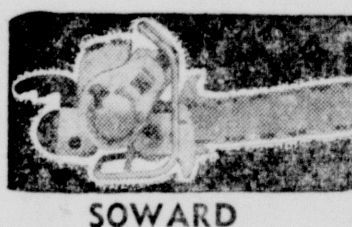

Do not start fires with gasoline and kerosene in stoves or furnaces, and use only safe solvents such as carbon tetrachloride for dry cleaning. Avoid accumulations of trash such as piles of paper and old clothes in attics and closets. Clean them out periodically.

Never be careless with anything involving fire.

FBI Agent Says Bill Taken from Defendant Matched One Taken in Confidence Game

LONDON, Ky. (AP) — An FBI agent testified Friday that the serial number of a $100 bill found in the possession of one of five defendants being tried in connection with an alleged $50,000 swindle matched the number of a bill taken in the money-switching confidence game.

Hugh Byrd said he found twenty-three $100 bills in the wallet of George Henson, London, Ky., businessman, when he arrested him here Oct. 21.

Henson is one of five defendants on trial in Federal District Court on charges of conspiracy and using interstate telephone lines with intent to defraud, in connection with the alleged bilking of two Ohio industrialist brothers.

Other defendants include Charles Paul Rothchild, former Cairo, Ill., policeman; Simpson B. Cross and Joe Buchanan, both of Jackson, Miss., and George Hutchison, Louisville, Ky.

Both Kenneth Close, Toledo, Ohio, and his brother Robert, Bowling Green, Ohio, testified earlier in the trial that they listed the serial numbers of all five hundred $100 bills they brought here in a private plane July 28.

The brothers said they brought the $50,000 in $100 bills to be exchanged for a promised $100,000 in $1,000 bills. Instead, they charged, they were met by Cross, Buchanan and Rothchild and an envelope stuffed with newspaper clippings was substituted for their cash.

Ban Commercial Distribution of Vaccine Until Feb. 1

CHICAGO (AP) — The Illinois Health Department poliomyelitis vaccine distributing committee has banned commercial distribution of Salk anti-polio vaccine until Feb. 1 because some of it may have been diverted to "non-priority groups."

"There's no cause for alarm," commented Chicago Health Board President Herman N. Bundesen after the ban was announced Friday night. "We are continuing our program on a priority basis. Children 5 to 14 can still get the vaccine and so can pregnant women."

"There was a feeling that some vaccine had been diverted to non-priority groups," explained Dr. Ruth Church, Springfield, who is state vaccine co-ordinator.

Dr. Church said the ban has no effect on public distribution of the vaccine.

Mt. Vernon Ends Centralia Win Streak, 81 to 59

By United Press
Upsets were the rule in Illinois high school basketball Friday night, as Centralia, Paris, Peoria Limestone, Rockford East, Kankakee and Evanston tasted defeat.

Mount Vernon's Rams ended the five-game winning streak of Centralia by a wallowing 81-59 score. Centralia was ranked fourth in the state before the game and was battling Herrin and West Frankfort for South Seven supremacy.

Washington's high scoring Panthers stunned Peoria Limestone, which had taken six games without a loss, by a 72-45 count. The Panthers now have a six-game winning streak of their own going and have averaged more than 80 points a game.

Aurora East, considered a sleeper in the Big 12, felled Rockford 77-72. The speed-minded and husky Tomcats have now won four straight. It was the Erabs' first loss in five games.

Kankakee Tastes Defeat
Rockford West repeated its state tournament final victory over Elgin, trouncing the Maroons 77-66.

The Warriors, with John Wessels back to team with Nolden Gentry, have a big height advantage.

Chicago Heights Bloom put the first smirch on Kankakee's season record, 56-53. The Kays were winners of six straight and hoped to garner South Suburban league honors.

A strong Maywood Proviso team steamrollered Evanston 58-54. Evanston now has a 2-2 season mark and Proviso has 4-1. Winnetka New Trier also ran up a 4-1 record with a victory over strong Cicero Morton 63-62.

La Grange got its sixth victory 74-66 over Glenbard. Crystal Lake kept rolling by 56-36 against Libertyville.

Paris Topples Before Canton
Canton dealt Paris its first loss in seven tries, 62-58. Canton had a 2-1 mark going into the contest, having lost to Peoria Central.

Central Friday night downed Champaign 52-43 and Decatur beat Peoria Manual 67-56 in Big 12 conference games.

Unbeaten Lincoln won a Big 12 contest, defeating Urbana 70-53. Streator, a Big 12 favorite, downed Bloomington 37-35. Quincy, which has lost only to Peoria Limestone in its opener, whipped Litchfield 62-52.

Pinckneyville got its fifth without loss 63-53 from Johnston City. Moline handed Rock Island its second defeat 63-46. Unbeaten East Moline promised its two big neighbors some competition in downing Kewanee 60-40.

Sterling trounced a good De Kalb team 68-63. La Salle-Peru and Peru St. Bede kept their winning streaks going. La Salle-Peru downed Joliet 76-66 and St. Bede made its string 8-0 with a 69-60 win from Streator Woodland.

Stratton, Santa Top Program at Governor's Annual Christmas Party

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—Santa Claus and Gov. William G. Stratton topped the program today for the governor's Christmas party in the state armory which annually attracts thousands of children.

The man in the red suit was escorted to the party by the clown band of Ansar Shrine temple, which led the youngsters in a caroling session.

Clowns, a maelician, trained dogs and a baton twirler put on a show for the children. Santa and Stratton were to wind up the party by presenting the children with candy treats.

Looking At Sports

By BILL MELTON

William Evard, 518 West Elm street, killed a banded goose while hunting Nov. 11. The goose had been banded and released from the Jack Miner bird sanctuary, Kingsville, Ontario, Canada, just 25 miles from Detroit.

Mr. Evard, who is employed at Sahara 16, hunts a lot and has the first banded bird he had ever killed. The band, containing the scripture from St. Mark 5:36, "Be Not Afraid, Only Believe," had a request that the hunter killing the bird contact the Jack Miner sanctuary, which Mr. Evard did and received a fine letter and literature on the sanctuary program.

The band number was 50,422 and was dated Fall of '54.

ACCORDING TO THE RECORD. Contrary to many reports circulating in these parts, the record indicates Oliver Rollins, big center on the Carrier Mills high school basketball team will not be 20 years of age until Nov. 12, 1956. That will be in the fall following his graduation from high school in the spring.

One day this week I made a trip to the office of Don Garrison, Saline County Clerk, and asked to see the birth records as I was interested in the age of Rollins.

The record shows that he was born in Carrier Mills Nov. 12, 1936, that Ruben Rollins and Eva Rollins are his father and mother. The record also states that the certificate of birth, a delayed certificate, was filed by Mrs. Rollins Jan. 19, 1944, with Harry Tanner, Carrier Mills village clerk.

There is nothing unusual about a delayed filing of a birth certificate I was told at the county clerk's office. It happens many times.

Rollins, a regular with the CM basketball team since he was a freshman, is a big boy and an unusually fine player. Those three factors—that he is now playing his fourth year as a regular, his size and that he is one of the better players in the state—has caused many to believe that he will be too old for high school competition before the end of this season.

Boys are eligible to play high school athletics until they reach their 20th birthday. Rollins has just passed 19. ACCORDING TO THE RECORD.

Hawks Beat Royals, 100-97

By United Press

The St. Louis Hawks shook off the effects of a five-game losing streak today and moved to within a half game of first place in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association.

The Hawks snapped their streak Friday night with a 100-97 overtime triumph over the Rochester Royals, who now have dropped four straight games. Rochester leads the Western division with a 10-10 record while St. Louis has a 9-10 record.

Bob Pettit scored 23 points for the Hawks, while Jack Coleman had 18 for the Royals.

Rochester hopes to end its own losing streak tonight at Minneapolis, while Syracuse is at Boston and New York at Fort Wayne.

Parseghian Named Football Coach At Northwestern U.

EVANSTON, Ill. (UP)—Athletic Director Stu Holcomb said today "I feel Northwestern has obtained the services of one of the finest young coaches in football in Ara Parseghian."

Parseghian, 32, head football coach at Miami University of Ohio for the past five years, was signed Friday to coach the Wildcats. He succeeds Lou Saban, who was fired by Holcomb Monday.

Parseghian's Miami teams won 39 games, lost six and tied one while winning three Mid-America Conference championships.

Holcomb, who took over as Northwestern athletic director last week, said Parseghian was given a three-year contract. Salary terms were not announced.

Shawneetown Defeats Galatia, 74-61 in Greater Egyptian Tilt

Shawneetown defeated Galatia 74-61 Friday night in a Greater Egyptian conference basketball game and is now firmly established as the favorite to cop the league championship.

Friday night's game marked the half-way mark for Shawneetown in the conference. In seven games against loop competition Shawneetown came through each time with a victory and now stands alone at the top of the standings with a 7-0 record. The next best record includes two losses.

Galatia battled the league leaders all the way, and held on for an even 14-14 first quarter. The winners staged a high scoring second period, counting 24 points and holding Galatia to ten, to establish a 14-point half time advantage and it held up for victory.

Shawneetown's well balanced scoring was displayed in the second quarter when seven players racked up points. Nolen having eight, Ellis and Crane four each and Thraikill, Gunzel, Drone and Stewart two each.

Nolen is High Scorer

J. Tate, who topped Galatia's scoring with 18 points, opened the game's point making with two free throws. Shawneetown then scored 3 points before D. Tate hit two more free ones for Galatia. Nolen and Ellis then combined to put Shawneetown ahead 9-4. Galatia put on an 8-point spurge to

Dons, De Paul Play Tonight for Tourney Title

By United Press

Top-ranked San Francisco, safely past its first hurdle on a cross-country junket, battles upstart DePaul tonight in the title round of the Chicago Stadium Invitational Basketball Tournament.

The touring Dons had to come from behind in the second half to defeat Marquette, 65-58, Friday night in the tournament semifinals after DePaul upset eighth-ranked Duquesne, 68-64.

A crowd of 10,212 at Chicago watched Marquette hustle to a 31-29 lead over San Francisco at half time. But the darting Dons ran off 10 straight points shortly after the start of the second half and remained in front the rest of the way to extend their winning streak through 30 games.

Bill Russell once again paced San Francisco with 16 points and was a bear cat on defense. The All-America center dominated both backboards while limitingquette's altitudinous Terry Rand to eight points.

Unable to Catch Up
Duquesne, like San Francisco, fell behind in the first half against DePaul. However, unlike the Dons, last year's NIT champs were unable to catch up in the second half. Actually, the Blue Demons beat Duquesne at its own game by committing only seven fouls.

Ron Sobieszczyk led DePaul with 20 points, including 14 of 15 free throws. The Dukes' Si Green wound up with 22, after being held to one field goal in the first half, but not even his second half heroics could stop DePaul.

In the Blue-Gray Tournament at Montgomery, Ala., Texas rallied for an 83-76 victory over defending champion Auburn while Mississippi turned back Eastern Kentucky, 95-92. The Longhorns and Ole Miss meet tonight in the final.

Wildcats Score 40 On Free Throws; Johnston City Plays Here Tonight

A big first quarter and hot shooting at the free throw line gave Marion an 88-69 South Seven conference basketball victory over Harrisburg last night at Marion and tonight the Bull Dogs are host to another Williamson county team, Johnston City, at Davenport gym.

In the initial frame Marion ran up a 32-14 margin. During the contest the Wildcats connected with 40 out of 50 free throw attempts.

Harrisburg outscored Marion, 25 field goals to 24, but could not compete at the free throw line. After the first period Harrisburg played on near even terms, scoring 55 points to 56 for the opposition.

Marion, with new coach Wendell Starke, continued the pressing defense and fast break that has made the Wildcats noted for years. At times the press hurt the locals and at other times it gave them easy baskets.

There were numerous instances of fouling during the tilt, each team being called for 27. And Marion cashed in on its charity tosses while the locals were able to connect with but 19 out of 40.

Bull Pups Win
From the field, Harrisburg connected with 25 out of 64, a percentage of 390 and not bad. But Marion's percentage was just a little better, 400 with 24 baskets in 60 attempts.

In losing the locals ran up their highest score of the year. Previous high was the 64 points the Bull Dogs made in beating Benton last week.

Couch Ben Chalmers' Bull Pups won their third game in a row last night, beating the Marion Wildkittens, 61-45, in the preliminary. The locals led 17-15 at the quarter, 34-26 at the half and 47-36 at the end of the third quarter.

Tonight at Davenport gym Coach Gene Bland's boys will be meeting a good Johnston City team, one which has beaten both Marion and Carrier Mills—teams that have defeated the locals. Coach Pete Truman has some big boys, some fast boys and some good shots.

Bryan Jones, local center, was ill last night and did not play. He probably will not play tonight, either. In his place, Coach Bland started Ron Williams, and when he fouled out Tony Beal went into the pivot. In fact four local boys and three from Marion fouled out.

The box score:

Harrisburg (69)	FG	FT	TP	PF
Stone	5	3	13	5

INTO THE DULL ROUTINE

There was little excitement in a shepherd's life. Long, uneventful days beneath the hot sun on a grassy hillside. Long, lonely nights, still and shadowy as the moon rode slowly among the clouds. All the monotony of a million lives today.

But into the dull routine of a shepherd's life came the vision that has captivated the imagination of man for two thousand years. An angelic voice saying, "Fear not." A heavenly host singing, "Glory to God... and peace..." The startling proclamation of the Savior's birth! The message still comes with brightness and joy to all whose lot it is to labor, to endure, to wait. And the Church, preaching the Truth of the One born that night in Bethlehem, calls men from the drabness of worldly pursuits to see this Thing which has come to pass, which the Lord made known unto a band of bored shepherds centuries ago.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'Jesus and Prayer'

Luke 3:21-22; 4:42; 5:16; 6:12; 9:18; 28:29; 10:21-22; 11:1-3

GOLDEN TEXT: "Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you." (Luke 11:9)

INTRODUCTION: Let us not forget that Jesus was both divine and human, both God and man, when he walked here on earth. Let us never forget the important place of prayer in his life during those years. It would be impossible to understand his life apart from his prayer life. It would be impossible to understand Calvary, if we knew nothing of the prayer life of Jesus.

If Jesus, who was the only perfect One who ever lived, felt the need for prayer; how much more do we, who are sinners, stand in the need of prayer! Everyone of us should experience the feeling of that old Negro spiritual: "It's not my brother, nor my sister, but it's me, oh Lord; Standing in the need of prayer."

Our lesson for this Sunday gives us several instances in which Jesus was in direct communion with God, the Father, through prayer.

I HE PRAYED AT HIS BAPTISM (Lk. 3:21-22)

Jesus was ready to begin his public ministry. He began by being baptized by John the Baptist. This was a tremendously important day in his life. He was getting ready to launch out into the work he was sent to do. What did Jesus do? He prayed.

What a lesson for us! We ought to pray always before undertaking any task or launching any work. Certainly, every "born again" believer in Christ should begin his life of service by following the Lord in baptism and in prayer.

II HE PRAYED FOR VICTORY (4:42; 5:16)

Jesus went about doing good. He healed the sick, the lame, the halt, and the blind. He restored life to the dead. Multitudes followed him wherever he went. Sometimes it was far into the night before he could find time to be alone. Even then, he would often have to just disappear out of their midst. His "withdrawing" from the crowds within itself was a miracle.

This scripture tells us that the devil was after him. He always is after the person who is trying to do good. Jesus realized from Whom victory over the devil could come. What did he do? He prayed, and victory came!

III HE PRAYED IN THE HOUR OF DECISION (6:12; 9:18)

Watch Jesus walking the roads around the Sea of Galilee. What is he doing? He is choosing Twelve men whom he wants to train to carry on after he is gone back into heaven. What does he do before choosing these men? He prays.

My! how all of us should take note of this. We should always pray before asking a person to take a place of leadership. Too often, in our churches, people are asked to take an important place of responsibility without ever asking God's opinion. Wonder how many changes there would be in our church if God were consulted? Why not pray the next time, and see what happens. Jesus always did.

Pray also for those leaders. Jesus prayed for the Twelve, and Peter came forth with this great confession: "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the Living God." Jesus knew that his prayer had been answered.

IV HE PRAYED AT TRANSFIGURATION (9:28-29)

We recently studied the great transfiguration story. Jesus' transfiguration was changed and his raiment was white and glistening. He talked to Moses and Elijah. All this came to pass after he had prayed. Peter, James and John witnessed it. Your life can be transformed through daily prayer. "The fervent prayer of a righteous man avails much."

V HE PRAYED IN HOUR OF JOY (10:21-22)

Unbelief was widespread. Jesus was dealing with it daily. In the midst of this message to the people, he broke forth with praise to God for giving understanding to them. Too often, we forget to praise and thank God in the hour of joy. We seek Him in the hour of trial, but we are prone to forget Him in the hour of happiness. Jesus did not!

CONCLUSION: THE MODEL PRAYER (11:1-14)

Jesus had just finished praying. The disciples were conscious of the presence and power of God. They sensed that somehow Jesus knew how to get through to Him. They requested Jesus to teach them to pray. He replied by saying:

"When ye pray, say, Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in heaven, so in earth. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our sins, as we also forgive everyone who has sinned against us. Lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For, thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory forever. Amen."

Paul, the Apostle, said: "We ought always to pray." Friend, your life can be transformed through constant daily prayer.
